

Anubhuthi – Educational Retreat

Retreats can be the perfect way to re-energize faculty, flesh out new programs, and help people get to know one another better. While getting away is a treat, some creative activities also can make an in-house retreat productive and fun.

Whether you are looking to set the tone for the term or give educators a much-earned respite during the year, educational retreats not only can improve teaching techniques, but help to see classrooms as a place of living values.

The benefits from Anugraha Educational Retreats are “immense,” with activities that guide self-growth, attitudinal change, improved self-image, improved relationship, team building, getting everyone on the same page -- and creating a focus and direction for the present. It is a chance to explore new learning in a less formal setting is among the pluses of retreats. If you have ever had the opportunity to attend an educational retreat offered by us, you understand the power of these events. Bringing this experience closer to home can provide a powerful event to align your team with your classroom’s mission. Brainstorming with your team while still in the planning stages can help you decide what topics will be best suited for your event.

Educational retreats provide many benefits beyond those of traditional educational classes and monthly meetings. They provide an opportunity to delve into deeper waters and really plug your team into who you are and what your business is all about. They also allow you to better understand your team and see what makes it tick. Having this exchange of information can be extremely valuable in moving toward smoother life situations.

During a retreat, team members have an opportunity to see each other in a different environment and uncover a deeper understanding of everyone's diverse personalities.

These retreats are held at inspiring atmosphere. Different locations offer different advantages — you can choose to hold the event in place that suits your needs.

Choosing a theme for the retreat is always a wise idea. It helps to keep the event flowing from one activity to the next. Our theme varies from retreat to retreat, but we always include a few key elements that help you to reflect upon your values.
